The Presbyterians of the city held a mass meeting last evening at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church under the auspices of the Church Extension Committee for the avowed object of raising $100,-100 for the work which that committee purposes to do in the course of the committee purposes to do in the course of the committee subscribed something over $115,000, the meeting subscribed something over $115,000, the committee in any one year in the course of its decade of existence. laughed at the report that he was suffering from rheumatism of the throat which had been made much worse by excessive cigarette smoking and eating of rich food. "It is not true that Signor Caruso ever had an operation on his throat or needed to have one," Dr. Holbrook Curtis told a Sun reporter yesterday "He needs only sufficient rest to recover from a condition of laryngitis that has become chronic. Signor Caruso is a very moderate smoker, rarely taking more than five olgarettees a day, and in the last month he has given up smoking altogether. He is also very careful about his diet." was subscribed.

The goodly total of last evening's subscriptions was made possible through a single contribution from one person. The Rev. Dr. Wilton Merle Smith, who was the chief spellbinder of the evening. read the pledges as fast as they were turned in mentioning in each case the name of the church from which the pledge came, but not the name of the giver. The largest contribution was one of $50,000, which came from a member of the Madison Square Presbyterian Church, over which the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst presides Dr. Smith said that a condition of this contribution was that the name of the giver should not be made public. The most he would say was that t came from a woman. Despite Dr. Smith's reticence upon the subject, the giver is reported to be Mrs. D. Willis James. The Rev. George Alexander, moderator of the New York Presbytery, presided, and addresses were made by Dr. Fullerton, moderator of the General Assembly; the Rev. Henry Sloane Coffin, pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Dr. William R. Smith, introduced by Dr. Alexander as the wizard under whose direction the Church Extension Committee had raised $359,000 in the ten years of its activity, made an appeal for funds. He blushed for Presbyterianism, he said, when he reflected that there were to-day only just the same number of Presbyterian churches in the district in which his committee operated that there were nineteen years ago. He told of the work the committee had done and then he started in on his exhibits quite with the air of one to whom this feature of the talk had just occurred:

"There's the Northminster Church," he said. "It's only five years old. Stand up, Northminster." About 150 persons in the gallery, headed by a boys' brigade from the Sunday school, rose.

"How many members have you got, Mr. Shriver?" demanded Dr. Smith.

"Three hundred and forty-seven," said Mr. Shriver, "and we've raised $18,000." "What are you going to do up there for the Lord?"

"How much time have I got to tell?"

"nouired the Northminster shepherd. He got two minutes and proceeded to outaccumulated. While the piedge cards were being signed and collected the hymn leader sang "I gave, I gave my life for thee. What hast thou given for me?" PREACHER FOR SUNDAY BALL. Classes Prohibitive Bule as Among the I nenforecable Blue Laws.

The Rev. Emil A. Meury, pastor of the Second Reformed Church in Central avenue. Jersey City, announced in an interview yesterday that he is in favor of Sunday baseball, a subject on which the dersey fans are greatly stirred up.

"Man's inhumanity to man," said Dr. Meury, "has never been better illustrated than by the recent and misguided action of certain ministers in seeking to deprive people of this city from enjoying baseball. be game is essentially the sport and ensyment of the plain people. It is a healthy, clean and honest amusement. Religion is not a system of dreary ethics calculated to save the faithful from punshment hereafter, but should rather be granded as a code of inspired morals for the purpose of making better and hapther both men and women in this life. is days the average man works long hours to sustain life in himself and in these he loves, and on the seventh his duty s to wership God and take the healthy recreation which his tired body and weary sold need. The sunshine is for us all and the brightness of life should cast its msman seeks his recreation all the church should ask is that it be honest and clean amusement which injures in no way the purity of a Christian life.

"The commandment to 'Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy,' can, when strictly interpreted, mean only that God should be worshipped on that day and His works studied, and it does not mean that the day should be spent exclusively. the day should be spent exclusively in religious work. Healthy recreation and amusement should be construed just as proper an observance of the day during ars when there are no church services any form of religious observance.

The law prohibiting Sunday baseball has, to my mind, long ago taken its place mong the so-called 'blue laws' which are last becoming dead and unenforceable."

TRINITY WINS IN COURT, TOO

CANNOT BE HINDERED IN MAN-AGEMENT OF THE PARISH.

Where It Interferes With the Original Charter Rights-St. John's Injunction Vacated-The Chapel Will Appeal.

The parishioners of St. John's Chapel on Varick street, whose independent ticket in the annual election of the wardens and vestrymen of Trinity Church was overwhelmed by a five to one vote on Tuesday, suffered another setback yesterday when Justice O'Gorman in the Supreme Court vacated the temporary injunction he had granted restraining the rector, wardens and vestrymen of Trinity from closing the chapel. Charles H. Beckett, counsel for the committee of St. John's, which has been fighting the closing of the chapel, said yesterday after the decision of Justice O'Gorman had been handed down that he would carry the decision to the Appellate Division. In vacating the temporary injunction granted by him in favor of the parishioners of St. John's last January Justice O'Gorman declared that the plaintiffs of the St. John's committee had presented no case of which a court of equity could take cognizance.

"Owing to changed conditions in the neighborhood of St. John's," said Justice O'Gorman in his decision, "the vestry of Trinity Church have been considering for several years various plans looking to a consolidation of the religious work of St. John's with the work carried on at St. Luke's Chapel, which is also a part of Trinity Parish and is situated in the same section of the city about half a mile north of St. John's. On November 9, 1908, the vestry adopted a resolution to close St. John's Chapel on February 1, 1909, and to remove the work thereof to St.

Luke's Chapel

"The vestry by their clerk depose that Trinity Church has no intention to abandon its work in the region in which St. John's Chapel is located; that, on the contrary, it is designed to enlarge the work and make it more effective; that special evangelistic services will be conducted at St. John's under conditions suitable to the neighborhood and that Trinity Church is merely rearranging its work to meet changed conditions and existing needs. The power of the rector and vestrymen of Trinity Church to discontinue the Present work at St. John's and vestrymen of Trinity Church to dis-continue the present work at St. John's and to institute the projected rearrange-ment of its religious and parochial work in disregard of the wishes of the congre-gation of St. John's is challenged in this section.
